LOYOLA COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

[Accredited (3rd Cycle) at 'A' Level by NAAC]

FIRE AWARENESS PROGRAMME

Details of the Programme:

Name of the Programme:	Fire Awareness Programme
Date of the Programme:	04-11-2026
Target Audience of the Programme:	The programme was conducted for the entire Loyola College of Education community, with student teachers as the primary beneficiaries. Teaching and non-teaching staff were also present and participated in the programme.
Objectives of the Programme:	• To create awareness about fire prevention and fire safety. • To educate student teachers on safe evacuation and escape routes during emergencies. • To familiarize them with basic fire-fighting and safety procedures. • To develop awareness about emergency preparedness and first-aid readiness.
Name of the Egmore Fire and Rescue Station Team:	• T. Vellayan • P. Sami • P. Mohan • S. Karthik Raja • A. Maya Krishnan • P. Madhan • A. Subash Chandra Bose
Brief note about the Team:	The resource persons from the Egmore Fire and Rescue Station conducted an informative and practical fire-safety awareness session. They explained essential fire-prevention measures, emergency procedures and safe evacuation practices. The team also gave practical demonstrations of fire-safety and firefighting procedures, enabling the student teachers to understand how to respond appropriately during emergencies.

Few insights given by the Resource Person :	The team highlighted the importance of preventing fires, identifying safe escape routes and responding calmly during emergencies. They explained basic fire-safety measures, the proper use of firefighting equipment and the importance of first-aid preparedness. The student teachers were also made aware of the need to seek emergency assistance through 112 and to remain alert, prepared and responsible during fire-related emergencies.
Learning Outcomes of the programme:	The programme helped the student teachers develop a better understanding of fire prevention, emergency preparedness and safe evacuation procedures. Through the practical demonstrations, they gained awareness of basic firefighting procedures and the importance of first-aid readiness. The session also encouraged them to remain calm, alert and responsible while responding to emergency situations.
The overall impact of the programme:	The programme created meaningful fire-safety awareness among the student teachers. The practical explanations and demonstrations by the Egmore Fire and Rescue Station team made the session engaging and easy to understand. It helped the participants recognize the importance of prevention, preparedness and responsible action during fire emergencies.
Any other remarks on the Programme:	The programme was informative, practical and highly relevant to everyday safety. The interaction with the Egmore Fire and Rescue Station team and their practical demonstrations made the session engaging and effective. The programme provided the student teachers with valuable practical awareness and reinforced the importance of being aware, prepared and safe during emergencies.

Details of the Committee which organized the event:

Name of the Committee:	National Service Scheme (NSS)
Programme Officers:	Mr. Arul Martin. J Dr. Pondyselvi. S

Signature of the NSS Program Officers Signature of the Principal

1.

2.

